Dear Potential Exhibitor,

You are cordially invited to join us for the 2024 Society of Pelvic Surgeons Annual Meeting, which will take place November 7-8, 2024, at the MD Anderson Cancer Center – Duncan Family Institute for Cancer Prevention and Risk Assessment and the Hotel Zaza – Houston Museum District in Houston, Texas. The Society of Pelvic Surgeons includes membership of world-renowned pelvic surgeons in the fields of Gynecologic Oncology, Colon and Rectal Surgery, Urology, and General Surgery. You will have the opportunity to interact with 100 – 125 faculty from leading US institutions, including MD Anderson Cancer Center, Memorial Sloane Kettering, Cleveland Clinic, Mayo Clinic, Moffit Cancer Center, and many others. Further, our international membership includes prestigious academic leaders from Canada, Germany, England, Ireland, Italy, Australia, and Japan.

This year's meeting focuses on the multispecialty management of pelvic tumors, emphasizing functional reconstruction and quality of life. For the first time, we will explore the challenges presented by pelvic sarcoma, which has significant multivisceral and vascular complications. During the MDACC host program and the subsequent abstract sessions, we will discuss and debate controversies around the multimodal management of gynecological malignancies. The optimized integration of minimally invasive surgeries into the treatment algorithms for colorectal, gynecologic, and urological malignancies will be evaluated. Further, we will discuss the evaluation and management of urinary incontinence, sexual dysfunction, and defecatory dysfunction in patients after treatment for pelvic malignancy.

The Annual Meeting will be an excellent time to connect with a group of widely respected physicians from around the world. As an exhibitor, you will have face-to-face time with the conference attendees during daily breaks on Thursday, November 7th (MDACC) and Friday, November 8th (Hotel Zaza). Additionally, if companies can commit to our highest levels, you will have opportunities to network at some unique social events.

Enclosed you will find information to begin planning your exhibit. Limited exhibit space is available; reserve your spot now. Please let me know if you have any questions or need any additional information for this request. We appreciate your consideration to provide support for this exceptional educational activity.

I look forward to hearing from you soon.

Best,

Cicely A. Simon
